Martijn Tellinga is a composer and sound-artist in the field of new electro-acoustic music and sonic arts, and a recent graduate of a Masters degree in Sonology at the Royal Conservatory The Hague in Netherlands. His work shows a great care for textural qualities, an eye for compositoric detail, and seeks its identity in the overlap of formalised form and intuitive musicmaking. More than relying on melody, harmony and rhythm, these works are constructed from what Martijn calls the fundamental building blocks of music: timbre, texture, volume and time-elapse.

Tellinga's work has been performed and exhibited across the globe, he has been commissioned by such labels as Korm Plastics (Hol), Spekk (Japan), Cronica Electronica (Portugal) and Stichting Mixer (Hol), and has collaborated with numerous filmmakers, video-artists and autonome artists, providing soundtracks for animated and short films. His ongoing project 'Boca Raton' particularly deals with the synthesis between concrete unstaged sound and synthetic sonorities. As it has never shown any steady state, the project develops over time according to the composer's ideas and capacities.

Martijn Tellinga's Australian Tour is assisted by the FAPK, The Hague, Netherlands
